
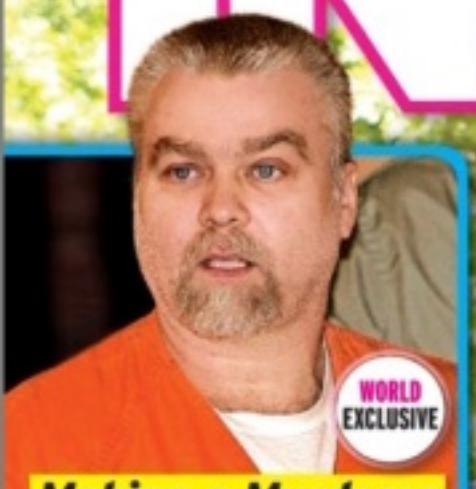
In Love Again!
PAGE 42

ONLY
$2.99

iNTOUCH

Golden Globes Glamour & Gossip
PAGE 20



WORLD EXCLUSIVE

Making a Murderer Bombshell

NEW EVIDENCE, NEW TRIAL

Shocking information from inside the jury room changes everything

EXCLUSIVE

Before

WHAT SHE'S HIDING

Ashley Olsen Plastic Surgery Disaster

FIGHTING NONSTOP

Jen's Dating, Ben's Furious

Blake & Gwen's Baby Joy

THEY'RE HAVING A GIRL!

- The name, the nursery & the baby clothes – all the details
- Both families get together to celebrate the big news
- Their angry exes won't let go

JANUARY 25, 2016 $2.99

Blake & Gwen: We're Having a Baby Girl!

Break out the pink paint for the nursery! Gwen Stefani's dream of having a daughter is coming true

It was, as one guest called it, a "magical evening." After rubbing shoulders with Kelly Clarkson and Reba McEntire at his longtime hairstylist Amanda Craig's wedding, Blake Shelton, with Gwen Stefani by his side, hit the reception at The Loveless Barn in Nashville, Tenn., on Jan. 9. There, the loved-up couple — he in a sharp three-piece suit, she in a sexy sheer black mesh dress that masked her growing baby bump — danced to tunes from a live Motown band. "They were on the dance floor all night," Tammy Pierchoski, the groom's cousin, whose Nashville bakery, Southern Sweets by Tammy, made the wedding cake, tells In Touch. "They looked so in love and happy."

And now it's clear why. Not only are Blake, 39, and Gwen, 46, expecting a baby — news In Touch broke in late December — but friends reveal Gwen is saying she's having a little girl. "She says this baby feels different — not like her other pregnancies," says a friend of Gwen's, referring to the No Doubt singer's sons, Kingston, 9, Zuma, 7, and Apollo, 22 months. "She's dying for it to be a girl. If it's a girl, Gwen will finally feel complete." She's so excited, adds the friend, that she's even started discussing baby names and nursery plans. And she and Blake have invited her parents to come meet his family in Oklahoma in the coming weeks, an insider exclusively tells In Touch. "It's serious. Everything is moving so quickly, but hey, they're madly in love."

Gwen didn't drink alcohol at the wedding, according to the groom's cousin Tammy. "I didn't see her with wine or anything like that. They were on the dance floor so much anyway, without drinks in their hands. And she looked very healthy." Gwen also laid off the booze when she and Blake had dinner at O'Charley's in Nashville on Jan. 8. "Blake was drinking beer, but Gwen stuck to

FROM LEFT: FAMEFLYNET; SPLASH; GETTY

WEDDINGS ON THE BRAIN

Gwen and Blake (in Nashville on Jan. 9) were "very affectionate at the wedding," Tammy Pierchoski, a cousin of the groom, tells In Touch. The next day, Gwen was still clutching the bouquet.

Looks Like Gwen Is Next!

SHE'S GLOWING

"Gwen couldn't be happier, and it shows," says an insider. "Blake is thrilled, too!"

THEY'RE GOING TO SPOIL THEIR LI'L COWGIRL

Gwen's not wasting any time getting ready for baby No. 4. "She's already called a specialist to help her design what the new nursery will look like," says her friend. Adds an insider: "Blake wants to have little cowboy boots everywhere!"

▲HORSE MOBILE
This pony and horseshoe mobile from Drops of Color Shop suits Gwen's whimsical style. "Gwen will go crazy with the girlie stuff," says the insider.

▲COZY CLOTHES
"Blake will want to dress her up in anything country-related," says the insider, like this crocheted hat and boots by Nonnie Made It.

HER OWN LINE
Dresses in Gwen's new Harajuku Lovers and Chasing Fireflies girls clothing line range from $88 to $249.

▲SAFE PRODUCTS
Gwen favors using diapers, wipes and other baby-care products from celebrity mom Jessica Alba's Honest Company, says her friend.

Gone country!

◀SADDLE UP
When she gets a little older, Gwen and Blake's daughter can ride this pink-accented rocking horse.

water," says an eyewitness, adding that "their PDA wasn't subtle. They were all over each other, kissing, cuddling and leaning on each other. They both seemed really happy. They were sort of wrapped up in their own world."

But that world isn't without problems. As In Touch first reported in December, Blake's ex-wife, Miranda Lambert, 32, has been texting her ex, unable to let go of the past. (She's also started monitoring his and Gwen's movements by following her on Twitter, says a source.) "Miranda wasn't ready to have kids when she was married to Blake, but now she's having regrets," says the friend. "Blake and Gwen are so happy, and Miranda sees that. She's jealous and texting Blake saying it could have been them having a baby together. Miranda's also furious that Blake is having a baby this quickly when they only just got divorced in July. Gwen wishes Miranda would just back off and move on — Gwen just wants to start fresh with Blake and their baby."

Gwen's estranged husband, Gavin Rossdale, is also causing problems. He's decided to stall the divorce as he attempts to get more of Gwen's money. (While Gavin, 50, is worth $35 million, she's worth $100 million; see box below for more). Then there's Blake's family. "His extended family thinks he and Gwen are moving so fast," says an insider. (Tammy says Gwen was among the women trying to catch the bouquet at the wedding. The next day, Gwen was seen clutching it as she and Blake flew out of Nashville!) "They also don't think Gwen is as pretty as Miranda — although they all agree that Gwen is nicer. They also think Gwen is too old for Blake."

Gwen's already opened up to Blake's family to show them she's the real deal and cares deeply for the country star. "Blake and Gwen spent Christmas Eve at Blake's family's place for a big dinner before they flew to LA to be with Gwen's family on Christmas Day," says the insider. "While they were with Blake's family, Gwen told them her whole story — she really shared a lot and opened up — because a lot of people there were meeting her for the first time."

> "Gwen and Blake are madly in love. His whole family could tell when he brought her home to Oklahoma before Christmas"
>
> – AN INSIDER

Gwen put it all on the table. "She explained how she lived with her parents until she was 26, how she hooked up with one of the guys in her band [No Doubt's Tony Kanal] and when that didn't work out, how she met Gavin and got married," continues the insider. She also told them about the heartbreak that led her to end her marriage in August. "Gwen told them what happened with Gavin and how she learned he'd cheated on her with the family nanny for three years."

With Blake, all she can talk about is the beautiful baby they're expecting. She's already brought up names and ideas for how to decorate the nursery. (Think pink!) "She loves the name Sedona, after the city in Arizona, and the name Flynn because it's her mom's maiden name," says Gwen's friend. The singer can't wait to dress her little girl. "She's been talking about having a girl since before she had Kingston. She wants a daughter to play with, dress up and just make into a little Harajuku Girl," says her friend, referring to the trendy Japanese fashionistas that inspired Gwen's children's clothing line. "It's all she talks about. She even wants to model the whole nursery after her brand [see box, left]."

No question, Gwen and Blake's baby girl will be treated like a little princess. "Blake is going to spoil her like crazy," says the insider. "Whatever she wants, she will get. He's so generous with his siblings and nieces and nephews, you can only imagine what he'll be like with his own little girl. She will have Blake wrapped around her little finger." ■

Gavin's Disturbing Message

On the heels of In Touch's report that he'll drag out the divorce with Gwen, Gavin posted this photo to his Instagram page on Jan. 7. The caption? "Keep your knives sharp." Gavin has yet to explain the bizarre message, but insiders say he's been in a dark place since Gwen found happiness with Blake. Gwen's becoming increasingly bitter: "She told Blake that when she was married to Gavin, they used her money to pay for everything, while his money stayed in savings," says an insider. "Now she feels stupid because she has to split [due to the prenup] all the money she made during their marriage."

CLOCKWISE FROM BOTTOM RIGHT: GETTY; @GAVINROSSDALE; CORBIS; NONNIE/MADELI/ETSY; DROPSOFCOLOR/ETSY; GETTY (2)