Gavin had a secret nest egg he never shared with Gwen, sources say — though he was happy to take half of her much larger fortune when the couple split.

GWEN GETS FLEECE

As if rampant rumors of Gavin Rossdale's cheating weren't enough to break Gwen Stefani's spirit, now comes word that he was hiding other secrets from his wife. OK! has learned that over the course of their 13-year marriage, the Bush frontman was funneling cash into overseas bank accounts, according to an insider, ensuring that Gwen wouldn't be able to touch those assets in the event of a split. Making matters worse, because the couple had no prenup, Gavin made off with half of Gwen's $120 million fortune when they divorced in October.

"Gwen is devastated," says a source. "She's kicking herself for not being more aware of what was going on with their finances. She had no idea that Gavin was squirreling money away." There had been signs for a while that the couple's romance had fizzled, including Gwen's telling Gavin via email — "Look what you did to me now" in all caps — that she was pregnant with their third child. (Apollo, 1, joined siblings Kingston, 9, and Zuma, 7, in 2014.) "Many thought Apollo was an attempt to save the marriage," says an insider, "but really that was the beginning of the end. Now Gwen's so hurt she wants nothing to do with Gavin." Her assistants take care of handing off the kids to him (Gwen and Gavin share joint custody), "and she can't even look him in the eye at this point," says the source. "She can't believe what he did to her!"
