

"Learning not to be selfish is the thing that has changed me the most," says Shelton on being married.

★ BLAKE SHELTON ★

As if that cheeky humor, smooth voice and dimpled grin weren't enough, here are three more reasons you'll fall even harder for Blake:

1. At 37, he's older but wiser:

"I'm not interested any more in partying all night. I just want to be at home. I've become that guy! It's nice to wake up without a pounding headache and not go, 'I wish I hadn't said that.'"

2. He doesn't believe the hype:

"I still look in the mirror and think of all the ways I can be better. I don't go, 'Hey buddy, you're a badass.'"

3. He's got the husband thing down:

"I've learned to shut up and listen and not always have a comment or suggestion about every statement. It's more about understanding and being a shoulder to lean on."
