Star COUPLES

The latest hookups, breakups and makeups

B Blake Shelton is being honest, he was “at rock bottom, in the middle of hell” at the end of his marriage to Miranda Lambert. And after months of keeping mum, the country singer, 40, is ready to open up about his messy split and how girlfriend Gwen Stefani turned his life around.

While Blake didn’t pen “She’s Got a Way With Words,” he doesn’t deny that the lyrics about a cheating lover who lied — “She put the low in blow... She put a big F.U. in my future” — pertain to Miranda. “You can learn some facts,” he explained, seemingly confirming Star’s explosive report (below). “Maybe not specifics, but you can get a general idea. It is my divorce record, but it’s my happy, falling-in-love record, too.” Misery does love company!

“I won’t forget that day,” said Blake, referring to the moment he announced his divorce at the start of season 9 of The Voice. “I looked over at Gwen, and she had these huge tears in her eyes. I thought, ‘Wow, she feels super bad for me!’” What Blake didn’t know was that Gwen, 46, was also nursing a broken heart after catching hubby Gavin Rossdale cheating with their nanny.

“You can’t even imagine the similarities in our divorces. That’s kind of how our bond started,” Blake revealed. “It went from checking in on each other once a week through email to maybe three times a week, then every day, to ‘Hey, here’s my phone number.’”

Next thing you know... “I wake up and she’s all I care about,” Blake gushed. “And I’m wondering if she feels the same about me.” No Doubt about it! ★
